Anyan's comments:
Did you get a nice break? I've uploaded AHS episode 49.

I didn't intend to do so but the Eurofighter has a huge presence!

The first episode was based on an article someone sent me a while back.
Last year, the USAF determined that the F-35 cannot perform to its fullest when it was fueled with warm fuel that has been sitting in the sun for a while, so they painted the refueling trucks with reflective paint.
I wonder if the F-35 will get a can't-handle-hot-liquids trait. I am not sure if this is an F-35 problem, or if the F-35 is really sensitive to its engine. Please let me know if you know a lot about engines and fuel temperatues... ;_;

The Eurofighter was developed by Eurofighter GmbH, which was a collaboration between four companies. Since it was a huge project by England, Germany, Italy, and Spain, there was a lot of infighting.

A reappearance of the newcomer Mirage IV... It might be a nostalgic period for the Mirage IV when the nuclear arms race was at its peak.

I really like that idiom... but since the F-35(B) doesn't really need a huge runway it's kind of meh lol
